Information and Resources Regarding Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19):

The City of San Juan Capistrano is following the guidance of public health professionals and taking several measures to address growing concern over the COVID-19 virus. This is a rapidly evolving situation, and City staff members are maintaining close communication with the County’s Health Care Agency and emergency managers. Community health mitigation decisions and strategies are crucial to slowing the transmission of COVID-19. While risk levels within the County of Orange are still low, the City of San Juan Capistrano is actively engaged in preparations in the event additional guidance on COVID-19 prevention is issued by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the California Department of Public Health (CDPH). We will continue to take the appropriate steps in order to protect the health and safety of our residents, visitors and business community.

The City has created a dedicated webpage to provide the community with guidelines and directives from State and County public health officials, postponed and cancelled community events and programs, and available resources. The page will be updated as additional information and resources become available. The webpage is available through the homepage of the City’s website and at the link below.
